

THE CLEO BEAUTY HALL OF FAME '08

Our fifth CLEO Beauty Hall of Fame is here! It's time once again for our judges to pick out the best of the latest beauty essentials, so you know what items you can't live without and which you should be saving up for.

MEET OUR JUDGES

Taya Rogers
MTV VJ

Our June cover girl Taya is the newest VJ to join MTV. "I'm just an average girl who happened to land a really awesome opportunity," the Thai-American babe insists. The 22-year-old is a knock-out in more ways than one — she's a budding DJ, a trained dancer, a water-sports fan and a fervent champion of youth issues. Having been in soap operas, variety shows, commercials and music videos since the age of 12, her dream is to publish a book of poetry one day.

Agnes Teo
Student/model/CLEO Cover Girl Search 2008 winner

Agnes is currently a final-year student at Murdoch University and a model. While winning the CLEO Cover Girl Search has no doubt given her the chance to venture into the world of modelling, she is quick to remind you that a whole lot of hard work lies behind the glitz and glamour. The ambitious beauty hopes to become an international model one day. "I've learnt that if something feels right, you have to persevere and get around the problems. Anything is possible!"

Eric Tan
Makeup artist

Eric has been attracted to the world of beauty since he was a child. He first worked as a freelance stylist (working with both hair and makeup) at Glamour Shots before becoming a full-fledged makeup artist — for the past nine years. When it comes to makeup, his motto is that there should be no rules, no rights or wrongs. Besides working tirelessly on the faces of models, Eric has also worked with Asian celebs like SHE and Jang Hyuk of Dance of the Dragon.

Dr Wong Su-Ni
Consultant dermatologist at Pacific Specialist Practice

Dr Wong has 14 years of medical experience, and her sub-specialties include Dermatologic and Laser Surgery, and Psoriasis and Photodermatology (effects of UV light on the skin). When it comes to new products, she tests them out on herself and her family first so she can better understand how well they work and find out their adverse effects if any, before giving them to her patients. "My bathroom's full of lotions and potions I'd never have gotten around to trying otherwise!"

Cynthia Chew
CLEO beauty & lifestyle editor

As CLEO's beauty ed for the past six years, Cynthia continues to keep the pages fresh with the latest scoops and must-haves. Every month, she turns plain Janes into glamour queens, creates lust-worthy looks with the latest makeup colours, and shows you how to get savvy with the right beauty know-how. She's learnt that the secret to looking youthful lies in your attitude and perseverance to personal grooming. "You can't be lazy if you want to look good!"
